Hillcrest Residents Observe Anniversary of Explosion

Sunday marked another anniversary within the Crows Nest Pass, the anniversary of the tragic mine explosion at Hillcrest in 1914 when 189 men perished while digging coal to supply industry with their needs. While the rest of the world is presently giving King Coal the cold shoulder and have forgotten the suffering and heartache of many a tragedy in the mines, the people of Hillcrest remember. Put aside are the worries and problems of today, their place taken by the memories of comrades and relatives that put in their last shift that July day forty years ago.

Volunteer workers have honored the dead by erecting a concrete fence around their graves and making general improvements to the cemetery itself. Trucks, loader and a tractor were supplied by public spirited citizens to make the project a thorough one.

As the work went on and the anniversary came nearer old timers recalled that the explosion occurred at approximately 9:15 in the morning and was of such a force as practically disabled the entire three slopes of the mine. The force of air through the mine mouth following the explosion almost completely destroyed the engine house from which the engine had a miraculous escape. The mine had been idle for a couple of days and the men had just resumed work that morning. It had been one of the best mines in the Pass and very few accidents had happened before that fatal morning when a estimate 222 men entered for work.

Rescue corps were on the scene in a short time together with all the doctors and nurses available. Despatches were sent to Lethbridge and Fernie as well as all mining camps in the district for assistance. Volunteer rescuers were organized from among Brown and Mr. Smith and the work of rescue was begun. The car owned by Joe Planie and Harry Antle was used to carry nurses and medical supplies to the scene, and it was on that day that Harry Antle received the name of Smokey because of his many trips with his smoking automobile. Mrs. Pauline, of Bellevue, now has the highlight plates of this car in her home, used as picture frames.

During the forenoon rescuers brought out only 11 miners, of these 7 were dead or succumbed after reaching open air. As more were brought out it was seen that many were broken up or disfigured beyond recognition. Thousands of people lined the hillsides and occupied the vantage points as the rescue work continued. Volunteers who entered the mine on rescue work came near to losing their lives, examples of extreme heroism were in evidence on all sides as men volunteered to make a second entry even after returning in a semi-conscious condition due to the gas.

One miner by the name of Link, who was working in the mine with two other men was forced out by the explosion without sustaining any serious injury. He did not know how he reached the outside.

A veil of gloom hung over the Crows Nest Pass on this day. As body after body was removed it was conceded to be the worst disaster in world history as far as the percentage of population effected was concerned. Of all the homes in Hillcrest, 90 percent lost an inmate and over 100 women were widowed.

Funeral services were held on Sunday and hundreds stood in drizzling rain as last rites were performed for the brave men that had perished underground. Members of the Catholic faith held services in the schoolhouse, the Anglicans in their new church, the Baptists, Presbyterians and Methodists in the Methodist church and the Masons in the Methodist church. The Orangemen and the Oddfellows combined their forces to pay the last tribute to their deceased members, each society represented one hundred members.

Coleman Rookies Win Hose Coupling Contest

Heavy morning rain and overcast skies failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the audience and produced a hot Hose Coupling Contest, ever to be held here, featuring teams from Lethbridge, Calgary and the local Coleman Rookies.

The various brigades assembled at the Coleman Fire Hall and paraded through town led by the C.N.P. Band, finally halting at the Central School Grounds where the events took place. Prior to the eliminations Mayor Abousafy opened the event with a few words and accepted from Mr. Bedard of the Fire Commissioners Office the award won by the Coleman Brigade in Fire Prevention last year. Mr. Abousafy in turn presented the award to Fire Chief Montalbetti.

In the eliminations all teams showed speed and class, registering times as follows: Bellevue 2:14.5, Okotoks 2:26, Clarendon R.C.A.P. 2:34.5, Lethbridge 2:1, Frank 2:04.5, West Canadian Colliers 2:11.5, Coleman No. 1 1:37.5, Blairmore 2:1, Taber, no time, Calgary 2:1, Kimberley, no time, Coleman Rookies 2:11.5. Ties for third place: Lethbridge, Blairmore and Calgary ran off for the finals, Lethbridge qualifying.

In the finals of the Hose Coupling event Coleman Rookies took top honors with a time of 2:03.5, with Coleman No. 1, second with 2:04.5, Frank third with 2:1 and Lethbridge fourth with 2:22.5.

To round out the day's events the Coleman Brigade demonstrated the use of ladders showing a great deal of agility and also a water fog display that ended in a humorous note. Clowns Walter Tymchyna and Peter Makowichuk performed throughout the day keeping the crowd pleased with their humor, antics and tumbling demonstrations.

Additional humor was introduced to the day with the demonstration of how grandfather fought fire, showing to the destruction that resulted in this approach as fire fighters practically demolished an outhouse.

Blairmore Council Calls For Water Conservation

Blairmore council has called for conservative use of water for the duration of repairs at the dam. It is felt that if the co-operation of the public is received rationing of supplies will not be necessary. T. Gibos informed council that Mr. Reed, engineer, had visited town last week and had decided that while dam repairs are being made water will be pumped into the town mains to keep up the supply.

A report was received that horses are roaming loose around town and the Chief of Police will be asked to rectify the matter.

A team of four men will represent the Blairmore Fire Brigade at the Calgary Firemen's Competition July 24.

A great deal of repair work has been done on the road in town and an additional 40 barrels of asphalt have been ordered. Councillor Tiberg reported the need of more wire and a number of relays to continue with the electrical work around town.

A letter of thanks was received from Rev. and Mrs. Haythorne for the coffee table received from council on their departure from Blairmore.

The government grant of $15,207.01 was received and $2,000 paid on the school requisition.

Costume Contest Proves Feature

BLAIRMORE — A colorful costume contest featured the "Hunary 30's" night celebration held in the Blairmore Legion for members.

During the evening the group was entertained by accordion, trumpet and piano solos while many members volunteered solos. A costume parade was held with the prize going to Mrs. Ona Gilbert and for the men's division Mr. Weston took top honors in his prospector's ensemble, complete with pick, shovel and water jug. The highlight of the evening came when a beard judging contest was held. Local "Mutt" Ennis took top prize in this amusing event.

A buffet luncheon was served to the many present after which the members enjoyed an evening of dancing.

Congregation Honors Father L. Sullivan

An estimated 200 parishoners sat down to a turkey supper Saturday night as the congregation of Holy Ghost Catholic Church bid farewell to very Rev. Dean L. Sullivan. Father Sullivan leaves this week for his new appointment in Calgary, and is faced with the task of starting a new church.

Addresses were given by Father Anderson and Father Holland and by Mr. Joe Wawzonek on behalf of the Catholic Slovak Union and Mayor Abousafy for the citizens of Coleman. Mr. Abousafy spoke on great progress that Father Sullivan had made in both the spiritual and financial aspects of church life.

Following the speeches Mrs. Sullivan presented the honored guest with a purse of money. Father Sullivan expressed his sincere thanks and regrets at leaving the community.

Steve Penney served as the chairman, John Salus tape recording all speeches.

Coleman Boy Hospitalized After Struck by Truck

Douglas Raymond Sherman, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherman of Blairmore Road was hospitalized with severe injuries, broken leg and fractured skull, Saturday having been knocked down by a truck.

His condition was reported critical late Monday.

Reports reaching the Journal state that the boy had been playing marbles with some other children around 5:30 Saturday and returned home with his marbles. Leaving the marbles at home he decided to rejoin his friends and started across the road. An eye witness reports that at the time a car was approaching from the west travelling at an estimated speed of from 55 to 60 miles per hour. The lad stopped to allow this car to pass then walked into the path of a truck coming from the east. Driver of the truck John V. Kryzwy stopped immediately and was joined by people nearby. Joe Gibos and Bruno Dudy took Douglas to the local hospital.

R.C.M.P. investigated the accident.

Alberta Coal Output Shows Big Decline

Production from bituminous fields dropped to 172,062 tons from 278,174 in May, 1953, while output in sub-bituminous fields increased to 97,994 tons from 93,313.

YOUNG GRADUATES PRESENT PROGRAM

BLAIRMORE — Graduates of the kindergarten class of St. Alphonsus Convent in Blairmore gave a delightful concert at the graduation exercises in the Elks Hall recently.

The concert portion of the evening opened when the entire class appeared on the stage and gave a welcome to all parents, friends and visitors. A two-hour concert then followed with many recitations being given by the young people together with mixed dances and little skits. One of the highlights of the concert was the presentation of "Our Lady of Fatima" which illuminated with colored lights, was applauded by the large audience.

On conclusion of the concert, the graduation exercise began with a march around the stage followed by a song "It's a Long Way to Reach the First Grade" after which the children were presented with their diplomas. Following the class song, the children sang "It's Holiday Time" and concluded the program with the song "Good Bye".

Coleman Ravens Sweep Double-Header

Coleman Ravens swept both games of a double header against Readymade Sunday, June 27.

In the first game Tymchyna went the route for Coleman allowing only 4 hits and 4 walks and masterfully striking out 13 batters. Kochyn, Scaff, Makowichuk, Tymchyna and Maniquet picked up the only 5 hits for Coleman. Runs were scored by Kochyn, J. Kryzka, Tony Zembak (2), Saff, Jenkins and Tymchyna. The longest hit of both games was made by Makowichuk who blasted a stand-up double almost to the left field fence.

Readymade used 3 pitchers to stem the Coleman rallies. The starting pitcher Lynn was pulled in the 3rd inning for Millar, who in turn was pulled for Berman in the 4th. Coleman struck out four Coleman batters, walked 1 and allowed only 5 hits.

Score

Coleman 7 runs 5 hits 5 errors
Readymade 6 runs 4 hits 11 errors
Winning pitcher: W. Tymchyna.
Losing pitcher: Millar.

Second Game:

The local squad came back stronger in the second game to defeat Readymade 6-1.

Bob Rypien went the route for Coleman with a brilliant 2 hitter. He allowed only 2 base on balls and struck out 4 batters in the 7th inning game. K. Smith, Tymchyna, Kochyn and Rypien picked up the 4 Coleman hits.

Although Readymade allowed only 4 hits in the second game, they allowed 8 base on balls. Their only run came in the 7th inning when Hranac hit a two-bagger, went to third on fielding play for next batter, and then was allowed home on Rypien's only wild pitch of the game. Duda started for Readymade and was replaced by R. Yanovich in the 6th with one out.

Scoring:

Readymade's only threat was quelled in the 6th inning when Kussar reached third with one out. Giachetta sent a bunt fly to Rypien on the mound in what was an attempted hit-run play. Rypien threw to 3rd base for a double play to retire the side.

by Corinne Terrie,

Yes, it's really coming! I mean summer, of course. The warm, bright, sunny days turn our thoughts to new bathing suits and slimming diets, to our friends' bridal shower and her wedding cake. These are the themes we've written about this month, in the hope that you'll like and use our ideas.

So you want to be thinner, now that summer is almost here! It's a good idea, if you are really overweight. In fact doctors, nutritionists and life insurance officers agree that honest-to-goodness overweight ranks very high as a serious national health problem today. They have facts to prove that fat people are much more likely to develop a serious chronic disease. But don't slim for summer only! If you are carrying around extra pounds, treat your condition as a serious health hazard, and do something about it now—so you'll continue to feel better all year long.

It's as easy as A-B-C. Losing weight I mean—if only you'll be sensible about the whole thing. Here are your cues:

A—Abstain From Extremes

In Eating Habits

If you're human at all, you're probably been tempted or lured by at least one of the so-called "wonder diets" flooding the country today. Beware of the quick cures. Most of them are the work of faddists or "health-food" promoters anxious to sell cheap words or nutritionally useless products. Losing weight is a natural body process and can only be brought about by a readjustment of natural everyday habits. Starving yourself one week and gorging the next will do little to help your condition. Extremes in eating habits can be more harmful than helpful. They upset regular digestive processes. They're hard on your nerves and your morale. They're even harder on your pocket book — food wise and clotheswise too.

So be sensible, and be sure. If you think you're overweight and you're anxious to do something about it, consult your doctor first. He'll tell you how many pounds to lose—and how fast to lose it. He shall help you with a long-range plan which will reduce your weight gradually, safely, and for good. Remember, A means ABSTAIN from EXTREMES.

B—Balance Your

Everyday Diet.

Perhaps you think your daily diet is satisfactory. At least it keeps you from feeling hungry. But do take another good look at it. A nutritionally balanced diet, based on Canada's Food Rules, is one of the surest guarantees for the success of your take-off weight campaign. Eat normal amounts of the common basic foods like meat, fish, eggs, milk, cheese, whole grain cereals, fruits and vegetables. Avoid all the extras which, though they have become necessary parts of your daily meals—the jam or marmalade on your morning toast, the catsup or gravy on your meat, the cream on your cake or the sauce on your pea cream. It's the basic foods that keep you in good health, whether you're reducing or not. It's the extras that play havoc with your curves. So take note—B means a BALANCED DIET EVERYDAY!

C—Cut Down On Everything

It's the calories that count. Don't let anyone tell you otherwise. And they're still calories whether they come from coconut cream pie or lettuce and tomato salad. What you must remember is that the food you eat must provide fewer calories than your body needs for heat and energy, before you can hope to lose any weight. You see, calorie is the name given to the unit of heat or energy produced in your body when your food is digested. Your food should provide your body with other benefits besides calories. It should provide proteins, vitamins and minerals to help keep you strong and healthy. But the overweight person must remember that every food, whether it's a good source of protein, vitamins and minerals or not, produces calories. If you don't use up all these calories, they become excess body fat. You know the rest.

No food should be called fattening or high calories. It's the amount of it you eat that determines how fattening or high calorie it becomes. There's just one rule that won't fail you. Don't leave any basic food, like bread for instance, out of your diet during the reducing period. Choose a balanced diet of nutritious foods that contain plenty of proteins, minerals and vitamins. THEN cut down on the amount of each food intake will be less—and your extra you eat. Then your total caloric body fat will be used to provide the heat and energy you need. C means CUT DOWN—SENSIBLY, on EVERYTHING.

It is as easy as A-B-C if you'll Abstain, Balance and Cut as you comfortably and slowly lose those excess pounds.

May and June are "her" months. Many are the symbols and events which we traditionally associate with this happy romantic time of year. There are diamonds, orange blossoms, rose gardens and wedding bells. And, of course, there are showers, trousseau teas and wedding receptions. The menu at any one of these events is sure to include sandwiches—lots of them, the fancier the better. So for the bride, or her mother or her sister, here are some party sandwich ideas to match the thrill of the old wedding march.

Double Ring Sandwiches

2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup chopped, cooked bacon
3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
6 slices whole wheat bread
6 slices enriched white bread
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1 dozen slices stuffed green olives.

Combine chopped eggs, bacon and mayonnaise. Use whole wheat and enriched white bread or all enriched or all whole wheat bread for each sandwich. Cut each slice of bread into two 2 inch rounds with a cookie cutter. Then cut the centre from twelve (half) of the rounds to form circles. Spread butter on bread rounds, then spread with 1 tablespoon egg salad-bacon filling. Place a circle of bread over egg-bacon filling and place a slice of stuffed olive in the centre of each circle. The cut-out "centres" may be spread with filling and sandwiched for additional open face sandwiches.

Yield: 1 dozen Double Ring Sandwiches.

Olive-Cheese Diamonds

1/2 cup cream cheese
3 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
1 tablespoon chopped pimento
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
Dash, salt
5 slices enriched white bread
5 teaspoons softened butter or margarine.

Combine cream cheese, olives, pimento, mayonnaise and salt. Cut each slice of bread into two 2 inch diamonds with a cookie cutter. Spread each diamond with 1/2 teaspoon butter, then with 1 1/2 teaspoon olive-cheese mixture. Yield: 10 olive-cheese diamonds.

Flower Pot Sandwiches

36 1 inch cubes enriched white bread
1 three ounce package cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
3 dozen whole strawberries, hulls on.

Pull part of the centre out of each bread cube with a pair of tweezers to make the flower pot. Combine cream cheese and milk. Spread cream cheese over the sides and top rim of each bread cube. Make cross wise cuts in the pointed top of each strawberry and spread them open like flowers, leaving the hull on. Place a strawberry flower in the centre of each bread cube. Yield: 36 Flower Pot Sandwiches.

Seeking Joint Stand On Coal

Formation of a joint management-provincial government union delegation is presently being urged by representatives of United Mine Workers of America district 18, for the purpose of emphasizing to the federal government the urgent necessity for a substantial market for western Canadian coal, Edward Boyd, union secretary, told The Albertan.

Referring to a remark by George Prudham, mines minister in the Commons, that the government's new subvention rate, 65 cents per ton higher, should allow steam coal from the foothills of Alberta to compete successfully for fuel needs of northwestern Ontario, Mr. Boyd stated that this increased subvention was probably mentioned in regard to a 100,000-ton market offered in northern Ontario.

If so the action would not do much good to western Canadian coal miners, since such a market could not be considered anything but a friendly gesture by the coal board.

The western Canadian coal industry would need at least another 2,000,000-ton market in Ontario to improve its condition the union man said.

Mr. Boyd expressed great hope that forthcoming negotiations with management and the provincial government would be successful.

Indium Invites Investigation

TRAIL, B.C. — Indium may be a 20th century Cinderella metal. Today it is little better than a poor relation but, with scientific fairy godmothers looking for new and wider uses, it could join the ranks of Canada's important metallurgical products.

Silvery white indium is one of the softest metals known. Lead, the popular "soft" metal, is four times as hard. Indium is almost soft enough to be chewed like gum and a bar half an inch thick can be bent by hand without trouble. Like its close cousin tin, indium "cries" or crackles when put under stress.

Rare Metal
In 1869 researchers Reich and Richter discovered a new element while analyzing zinc ore samples at the Freiberg School of Mines in Germany. They named their find "indium" because, in a spectrum, it showed as a deep, indigo-blue line.

The discovery was not commercially important. Indium was too rare to attract attention. Tests showed that zinc ore where indium is usually found, often contained as little as a third of an ounce per ton. Even by 1924 it was still a curiosity. At that time the world supply totalled less than an ounce.

B. C. Mine
The Sullivan mine at Kimberley B.C. is probably the largest known source of indium. The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada Ltd. found traces of the metal in zinc concentrates being shipped from the property to its metallurgical plants at Trail.

Extraction tests were started in 1940. Two years later 30 pounds of refined indium were produced in Commercial research laboratories.

Indium's detectable trace traced indium through the complex lead and zinc smelting processes.

A recoverable accumulation was found in one of the process slags. At present Cominco could produce about 1,000,000 ounces of indium annually although production is much less due to the small demand. A reserve of 10,000,000 ounces is also available in by-product stockpiles built up over past years.

Some Uses
Indium is used as an indicator in atom piles since radio-activity can be induced easily in the metal. As an ingredient of solders it lowers the melting point, considerably. An indium-tin alloy makes an effective glass-to-glass and glass-to-metal seal. Applied to bearings in some aircraft and racing engines it has valuable anti-seizure qualities. Low melting point alloys of indium have been used in surgical casts, footpads, safety fuses and dental alloys. It retains its softness at below zero temperatures. It is being used in some of the transistors that are replacing vacuum tubes.

The surface has only been scratched. Now that a supply is assured, research may soon develop uses which will make indium a household word and another Canadian production achievement.

B. C. - Alberta Army Cadets

VERNON, B.C. June 1954 — More than 900 teen-age British Columbia and Alberta Army cadets begin a seven-week summer training program at the Western Command Cadet Training Camp here July 5, the Army said today.

Representing more than 80 corps in the two provinces, the Army-minded youngsters will converge on this Okanagan centre from as far away as Vancouver Island and the Saskatchewan border.

The training period continues until August 21 under Active Force, Reserve Force and Cadet Services of Canada instructors. The camp will be the largest single military concentration in B.C. in 1954 and total "ration strength" including cadets, instructors and civilians will be approximately 1,300.

All boys who successfully pass their courses will be paid the Cadet Training Bonus of $100.00. Cadets are paid $20.00 during the camp as pocket money and receive $80.00 cheques at the end of camp.

Three separate wings will handle seven-week courses for basic training, instructors, driver mechanics and wireless and line operators respectively. Largest of the three wings will be the "Instructors Basic Training" course for senior leaders which expects to graduate more than 400 boys to instruct in their own corps. "DMT" wing will train some 250 youngsters in driving and maintenance of Army vehicles; and "Sig" will teach operation of Army wireless and telephone equipment.

● THE COMPLETE CANADIAN VACATION — Canadians are a lucky people. When summer rolls around they never have to cross borders or leave Canadian shores to find a holiday haven. From the grandeur of the Rockies, past rolling hills, forests and streams, down to the picturesque East coast, Canada can offer everything vacation-wise. Conveniently located at the best sites are the Canadian Pacific Railway's summer resort hotels. Hiking and mountain climbing (1) are favorite pastimes at Banff Springs and Chateau Lake Louise in the Rockies. History, tradition of the Old West and a bit of the blarney are re-enacted during mid-July Indian Days (2) at Banff. Golf (3), whether down east at the Digby Pines in Nova Scotia and the Algonquin in New Brunswick or a mile high in the Rockies at Banff, is always popular. Swimming and girls (4) are attractions to be found at all resorts, both east and west. If summer heat and hay-fever tend to interfere with your vacation plans, the cooling, pollen-free breezes at Skideau Inn, near Yarmouth, N.S., offer sure-fire remedy.
